

A project by Douglas/Elbert REALTOR® Association

July 9 and 10, 2009

Douglas Elbert REALTOR® Association's Helping Hands mission is to help those in need within our community with home improvement projects to better a family's quality of life. Helping Hands supports the elderly, the young, the disabled, the economically challenged, and those with unexpected life events and adversity.

How You Can Help:

- Sponsorship / Donations
- Volunteer Your Time or Professional skills

About the Project:

The Douglas Elbert REALTOR® Association (DERA) and The Metro Denver REALTOR® Foundation (MDRF), a non-profit organization, have partnered together for this year's 2009 Helping Hands Project. The nomination committee has selected a family from the applications that were received.

Now the task remaining will be to recruit willing volunteers and sponsors to help this family improve their quality of life.

The work will be entirely external this year. If you can don on a pair of gloves, you can help with this project!

Please take a moment to let one of our committee chairs know that you can help.
